Teenage Yoga Teacher Training Course

Teenagers face many challenges relating to stress and anxiety. They are often over-looked when it comes to teaching yoga, yet they are the ones who may benefit the most from a regular yoga practice. There is, however, a greater emphasis being placed on their wellbeing both educationally and socially but it is still in its infancy. Yoga can be the perfect practice for teenagers.

This training course is designed to prepare adults to teach yoga to teenagers. Participants in this course will be introduced to fun, exciting and dynamic sequences incorporating yoga poses, partner yoga poses and functional animal movements. Mindfulness and relaxation techniques such as breath awareness, pranayama and body scan meditations will be explored in detail.

Instruction will be given on how to conduct and control classes with confidence, integrating the latest neurological findings on the teenage brain with 10 years of teaching experience.

This course is suitable to all yoga teachers who like to upskill as well as those working with teenagers such as teachers, therapists and parents with experience of a regular yoga practice.
